THE WORLDWIDE MAJOR MEDICAL PLAN

An International Major Medical Series Product

The Worldwide Major Medical Plan

Because the World is Dynamic—Not Stationary!

Why The Worldwide Major Medical Plan?

The Worldwide Major Medical Plan began in development several years ago.

Traditional medical insurance assumes that the insured never ventures far away from a managed care facility. Having a population remain in one place is the only way a managed care program can function. This still remains true and is an important part of health insurance in the United States. Most carriers, and even countries with socialized healthcare access, often are not capable of claims administration on an international basis.

However, traditional medical plans and even the supplemental travel medical plans became limited with a new type of individual needing medical insurance — The global citizen!

Many U.S. citizens have found themselves residing outside the United States either permanently or for an unknown period of time. These people need medical coverage in the country in which they are residing, but also may desire coverage that if something serious happened, they could use the coverage for treatment in the United States. These same people also may travel to other locations necessitating a portable international medical plan.

The Worldwide Major Medical Plan provides valuable benefits in any country in which a person is located and even may provide benefits available for treatment back in the United States.
